

THECIA JENKINS, CCP

“No significant learning occurs without a relationship.”
- Ruby Payne, Educator

Thecia Jenkins has been using the power of relationship to deliver transformational training to law enforcement, healthcare providers, educators, victim service providers and corporate teams for twenty-five years.

Her areas of expertise are intimate partner violence, emotional intelligence and interpersonal communication. Thecia has certifications in DiSC, Emotional Intelligence, Diversity and Mediation.

She has trained and provided consultation on intimate partner violence and emotional intelligence to audiences in West Africa (Ghana), Trinidad & Tobago, and London. Thecia was also featured on the Oprah Winfrey Network reality show “The Book of John Gray” as an expert on sexual violence.

Thecia is an independent consultant and also works with the Harris County Domestic Violence Coordinating Council as the Training Director where she develops and delivers programs for first responders to survivors of domestic violence and also provides technical assistance to public sector professionals and human resource managers. She is passionate about equipping organizations to maximize the value of their teams.

Certifications

Wiley Publishing

Everything DiSC Management

Emotional Intelligence | EQ-i 2.0

Diversity

Testimonials

“Thecia is so engaging and makes the learning experience enjoyable and is so down to earth.”

Victim Advocate

“People are still talking about the energy that she brought during the keynote at our conference.”

*Executive Director,
State Advocacy Coalition*

Follow Me

